National Works and Goods tenders

Now e-GP open to any value

In the procurement of Works and Goods (national), the electronic government procurement (e-GP) system is now open to any threshold.

Earlier it was up to Tk100 crore for the above public procurement. The CPTU issued a circular to this effect on 26 September 2018 removing the limit. The circular available at www.cptu.gov.bd also made it clear how the procurement processes, which come across the Cabinet Committee on Government Purchase (CCGP), will be conducted in e-GP.

The procurement of intellectual and professional services is soon going to be incorporated in the e-GP system. Also steps have been taken up to include international tenders in e-GP. Meanwhile, Contract Management System (CMS), in e-GP has been developed, which is a milestone achievement. The CMS will be put into e-GP practice upon some tests as its harmonization has been very difficult amid government procuring agencies having various systems regarding payments and other fundamentals.

These are being implemented under Digitizing Implementation Monitoring and Public Procurement Project (DIMAPP) which is now being implemented by CPTU with support from World Bank.

Under the project e-GP is being enhanced in 28 newly selected public sector organizations. Dedicated procurement cells have been formed in those SPSOs. The cells will provide advisory services to their own agencies on public procurement issues.

Happy New Year 2019

From the editor

Turning CPTU into an Authority

As yet another year is waning into the womb of oblivion CPTU wishes all concerned a happy English new year 2019.

Over the year 2018 there have been some important developments in the domain of public procurement in Bangladesh.

With a view to infusing more dynamism into its activities and empowerment in the wake of growing diversity and volume of public procurement and its digitization, the Central Procurement Technical Unit (CPTU) is expected to be made an authority called Bangladesh Public Procurement Authority (BPPA).

A draft of BPPA Act has been prepared and is now under official process to be finally placed in Parliament hopefully in early 2019. A project titled Digitizing Implementation Monitoring and Public Procurement (DIMAPP) is being implemented with support from World Bank.

Under the project e-GP is being enhanced. In 2018, the provision for procurement of any threshold was introduced in e-GP Contract Management System was developed and is now to be in practice. Necessary preparations for introducing International Tenders, Intellectual and professional Services in e-GP were taken up. ITC-ILo has been engaged for implementing large-scale training and professionalization in public procurement.

Steps are underway to achieve SDG targets in public procurement. Citizen engagement and translation of STDs into Bangla have been initiated. A Citizen Portal is also being developed at CPTU to display procurement data for greater openness and hearing voice of the citizens. Disposal policy, reverse auction etc. will be incorporated in the law to be amended.

Implementation of all the above is expected to ensure sustainable public procurement in Bangladesh despite the facts that there are challenges too.
